

How to Get Well.

Every organ of the body is directly connected with the brain by nerves. The nerve cells in the brain generate nerve force—power—and send it to the organ through these nerves, and this nerve-force gives life and action. The organs work perfectly when there is sufficient nerve power. Lack of nerve force weakens the action of an organ and it works imperfectly—becomes sick.

Two-thirds of all sickness is thus due to weak or deranged nerves; it is therefore advisable to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, because it makes nerve energy.

When you cure the nerves you remove the cause, and that's the way to get well.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve cured me of nervous prostration after every other effort had failed to give me relief. My trouble seemed to begin with a general loss of strength and a breaking down of the nervous system. I suffered from headache, constipation and fluttering or palpitation of the heart. My appetite failed and I was so nervous and restless that I could not sleep at night. My husband, who is a druggist, brought me a bottle of Nerve. It helped me from the start, and I continued using it until I had taken six bottles. My health was completely restored.

MRS. S. H. MOREHOUSE, North Adams, Mich.
Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

BURLINGTON'S STRIKE.

Plumbers Have Been Out for Nine Weeks—Settlement Remote.

Burlington, July 1.—The ninth week of the plumbers' strike is nearly over and the indications of a final settlement are about as encouraging as they were the opening day. Of the strikers 18 have left the city and secured work at other jobs, while at least two have returned to work for Burlington concerns.

Alderman J. E. Meagher has decided to open a shop of his own and has purchased an equipment which is on the way. He had considerable trouble in securing his supplies, but finally succeeded. John Donahue wishes to open a shop but has as yet been unable to purchase his equipment.

It was stated recently by one of the prominent men in the union that a settlement could easily be reached if the contending parties would consult, as those who are out would be willing to concede some of their first demands.

JURY ACQUITS SANDERSON

Prison Scandal Falls to the Ground.

CASE CAUSED DISCUSSION

Other Prisoners, It Is Thought, Will Be Released as Result of Finding—Story of Interesting Testimony Given at Trial.

Woodstock, July 3.—Like a house of cards the entire structure comprising the Vermont state prison scandal has fallen to the ground, notwithstanding it has been the most exciting episode which Vermont politics has known for many years and has created more dissensions and feuds than any party has ever known in this state.

The case was that of the state against Alvah Sanderson. He was charged with having furnished to certain convicts in the penitentiary morphine and opium and with having received from them value in the shape of shoe stock comprising both raw material and partially completed articles, which it was claimed was disposed of to the advantage of both the convicts and the guards.

Two other officers of the institution are under arrest, and it was proposed to try their cases at this session of the Windsor county court. Their names are Harrison McCormick and Charles Hanson, and the former was a witness at Saturday's session of court. It is probable that they will now be allowed to go free. The arrests of these men followed the resignations of Warden Harkin and his son last April, and the subsequent withdrawal from the prison of Superintendent Oakes.

When the present head of the institution took office, practically all the remaining officers gave up their positions. Some took this action voluntarily, while others were discharged for "the good of the service," as it was announced to them. As a matter of fact, the entire state of Vermont had felt that remarkable disclosures were forthcoming to show the existence of a peculiar state of rottenness at the penal institution of the commonwealth, and Saturday's vindication by a jury of the man regarded as the most guilty of all and against whom what was considered as the strongest evidence possible had been secured satisfied almost all conversant with the situation that the extravagant charges which have been made were unwarranted.

The trial of the present case began Thursday afternoon, when, with State's Attorney Charles Batchelder, presenting the case for the government, and Lawyers Buck and Knight, both of Windsor, appearing in behalf of the defendant, Alvah Sanderson of Windsor was put on trial.

MORGAN AGAIN IN TROUBLE.

In Court on a Charge of Being an Absconding Debtor.

Burlington, July 3.—Thomas Morgan, alias Gelo, is again in Burlington, and he is also again in trouble, having been arrested by Deputy Sheriff Agel on a charge of being an absconding debtor. Morgan is the man who came to this city several months ago with a fine riding horse and advertised to give riding lessons. He was a graceful rider and attracted much attention, although few pupils resulted from his advertisements.

Before his business was well started, officers from Springfield, Mass., his former home, came to Burlington and when they returned Morgan, or Gelo, as he is known in Springfield, went with them to answer to a criminal charge, of which he was later convicted.

In the meantime Burlington creditors were worried and attachments were placed on the horse which Morgan had left at Weddell's stable. This horse was subsequently sold to satisfy the claims.

The present trouble grows out of a suit for the recovery of $53 brought by P. E. Stone & Co. Morgan only recently arrived in this city and he has been attempting to buy the horse from M. L. Powell, who was the attorney interested in its sale for the benefit of the creditors. As the result of a conversation it was thought Morgan was about to leave the city as soon as he secured the horse and he was arrested on a charge of being an absconding debtor.

WEDDING WITHOUT CONSENT.

Brattleboro Young People Were Married on Saturday.

Brattleboro, July 3.—A wedding which did not have parental consent took place Saturday when William George Duquette and Miss Carrie M. Haskell were married by town clerk William S. Newton in the latter's office.

They met by appointment, went to Judge Newton's office, took out a license and were married, enjoining secrecy on the part of the justice. Then they started by carriage on a wedding trip.

Mr. Duquette's parents are out of town, and it was several hours before the bride's parents learned of the marriage, through reports from those who saw the young people driving away.

Mr. Duquette is 23 and a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Duquette. He is running the American house for his father. The bride is 18, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Haskell. Her father is superintendent of the pipe organ department at the Estey organ company's plant. Her mother gave a ball in her honor in December.

The Circus Bicyclists.

The Great Sells & Downs Show, which will exhibit here soon, has more highly-salaried performers than any other similar show. Among the top-liners may be found the Martell family, bicycle experts. The Martell family comprises five people, from the father down to the little five-year-old curly-headed lass. Although they have been before the public for several years, the famous Martell family still remain the popular aristocrats in the realm of the arena, and the public seems never to tire of watching their performance. The work of the Martell family borders upon the marvelous; in fact, some of the attainments are of such complex difficulties that their best tricks frequently pass with but little more notice from the public than their simpler displays, because the audience can follow its intricate and perplexing paradox.

The genius and dexterity of the Martells frequently brings forth loud, spontaneous applause from their fellow performers, who, like the public, never grow weary of their admirable act.

The Great Sells & Downs Shows is noted for its fine and brilliant costumes, but there is no better dressed act or more pleasing and attractive performance for the feminine portion of the circus patrons than that of the Martell family. This family of artists are the undisputed champions of fancy trick bicyclists of the world, and theirs is one of the most fascinating circus acts of the age.

Second to none, the Sells & Downs Show is sure to pack its big tents in Barre, Thursday, July 6.

Rev. Davison Gets Degree.

Of the only two honorary degrees bestowed by Middlebury College this year, the Rev. William A. Davison of Burlington is accorded one.

Mr. Davison is still a young man, but has made himself felt in a very helpful way throughout the state. He first settled as a pastor at Utica, N. Y., and afterwards became pastor of the Baptist church in Montpelier, which prospered in an excellent manner during his three years' service. From the pastorate of the Montpelier church, the Baptist State Convention called him to be its superintendent and he has filled that position for six years with great acceptance to the denomination. His sterling ability has contributed not a little to the present prosperous condition of the state convention work. The Baptist convention recently voted to send Mr. Davison to the Baptist congress in London.

In this opera Miss Ross sang the part of the flower girl, and in "Der Meistersinger" the part of "Schrubben," as well as parts in Fledermaus. She also took part in the Theodore Thomas memorial, which proved to be one of the features of grand opera in New York.

Miss Ross is an ardent admirer of Mrs. Sembrich, the soprano, considering her to be on an equal with Signor Cambo, the world's greatest tenor. As to her plans for the coming season, Miss Ross said that she would continue under the management of Horri Corried, and would start for New York October 1 for rehearsals for the season which is to be ushered in November 1.

A Big Policy.

Henry Siegel, president of four of the largest department stores in the world, has purchased a policy for $500,000 in the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, for which he pays an annual premium of $26,435.

He has taken it as a protection to his business in event of his death and as an investment.

Mr. Siegel is now one of the most heavily insured men in America. John F. O'Rourke carries $500,000, George W. Vanderbilt $1,000,000, and James C. Colgate $1,500,000.

JURY INDICTS BEEF TRUST

Big Four Combine and 17 Individuals.

EACH GIVES $5,000 BOND

Others Are Expected to Give Themselves Up, So as to Avert Arrest—The Anti-Trust Law Violated.

Chicago, July 3.—The federal grand jury Saturday afternoon, after an investigation of several months, during which more than 100 witnesses were examined, returned indictments against 17 men prominent in the beef-packing industries for violation of the Sherman antitrust law, and against four officials of Schwarzschild's & Sulzberger for alleged illegal rebating agreements with railroads. Besides these individual indictments, bills were voted against Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Nelson Morris & Co., the Cudahy Packing Company and the Fairbanks Canning Company. The men indicted for alleged conspiracy in restraint of trade, which constitutes a violation of the Sherman act, are: J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co.; Charles Armour of Armour & Co.; Arthur Meeker, general manager of Armour & Co.; T. J. Connors, director of Armour & Co.; P. A. Valentine, treasurer of Armour & Co.; Samuel McRoberts, assistant treasurer of Armour & Co.; Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co.; Charles Swift of Swift & Co.; Lawrence A. Carter, treasurer of Swift & Co.; Arthur F. Evans, attorney for Swift & Co.; R. C. McManus, attorney for Swift & Co.; A. H. Veeder, general counsel for Swift & Co.; Edward Cudahy of Cudahy & Co.; D. E. Hartwell, secretary of Swift & Co.; Edward Morris, secretary of Nelson Morris & Co.; Ira W. Morris of Nelson Morris & Co.

It was proved to the satisfaction of the grand jury that the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Company is not a part of the trust, but has been conducting its business independently. Some members of this company, however, are indicted on the charge of accepting rebates from the railroads, one of the things expressly forbidden in the injunction granted three years ago by Judge Grosscup.

The capital stock of the five concerns involved aggregates $72,000,000; the value of the stock is estimated at $172,000,000, and the annual volume of business is estimated at $565,000,000. There was nothing of a sensational nature among the packers, because the probable action of the grand jury had been anticipated, and they were prepared for what happened. There was a large crowd in the court room when the grand jury appeared before Judge Betha to make its report. Judge Betha briefly thanked the jurors, complimented them on their patience and perseverance and dismissed them. Immediately afterward the bonds of the packers were set at $5,000 in each case.

Dist. Atty. Morrison announced that he expected no trouble in bringing the packers into court. He said their lawyers would be notified at once, and given a reasonable time to produce the defendants, several of whom had said today they were prepared to give bond.

Others are expected to surrender soon. Bench warrants were issued yesterday and are held by the United States marshal until the time limit expires, and arrests will be made where bonds have not been given.

MANY LABOR INDICTMENTS.

Cook County Grand Jury Finishes Its Investigation—49 in All Are Held.

Chicago, July 3.—The Cook county grand jury, which for a month has been investigating the cases and conditions of the present teamsters' strike at Chicago, returned its report Saturday night, and with it 49 indictments against men connected in various ways with recent labor troubles in Chicago.

Success of a Vermont Actress.

After concluding a second successful season with the Metropolitan opera house artists of New York city, under the direction of Herr Condie, the well-known impresario, Miss Edith V. Ross of Rutland has returned to her home. Miss Ross said that she was delighted with the success of the company, not only in New York but on its triumphal tour through the large cities of the United States. She said the well known Wagnerian masterpiece, "Parsifal," especially appealed to the packed houses before which it was given.

HAY'S FUNERAL IN CLEVELAND

President Will Attend With Cabinet.

FUNERAL TRAIN STARTS

Mrs. Hay Prefers Quiet Services, but Is Ready to Yield to the Nation—Asks for No Demonstration.

Newbury, N. H., July 2.—According to arrangements made by Mrs. Hay and her son, Clarence, yesterday afternoon, subject to such modifications as may be made by request of the United States government officials and the city of Cleveland, Mrs. Hay's former home, the funeral of John Hay, late secretary of state, who died yesterday morning, will be held at Cleveland on Wednesday next.

President Roosevelt has sent word to Mrs. Hay that it is his intention to be present and the honorary pall bearers will be members of the cabinet, with the exception of Secretary Taft, who will be held in the little chapel at Lakeview cemetery, and interment will be in the family lot there. No arrangements have been made for having the body lie in state at Cleveland, and it is Mrs. Hay's desire that this should not be done, but she realizes the great public interest in Mr. Hay, and is prepared to accede to such requests as may be made by the officials in connection with the funeral.

The remains left here in a special train over the Boston & Maine railroad at 11:30 o'clock. The train consisted of two cars, one a Pullman for the family, and the other a Boston & Maine funeral car, which arrived from Boston yesterday.

The body was accompanied only by Mrs. Hay, her son, Clarence, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mather of Cleveland. Mrs. Mather is Mrs. Hay's sister and, with her husband, was on a visit to Farmington, Ct., where they heard of Mr. Hay's death and came on here. Neither of Mr. Hay's daughters will be on the train, for Helen Hay, who is Mrs. Payne Whitney, is now on the ocean on her way to Europe, and the second daughter, Alice, now Mrs. James Wadsworth of Genesee, N. Y., became a mother only 10 days ago, and will probably be too ill to attend the funeral. The party will not be joined by either officials or friends en route, but will go through privately to Cleveland.

FOR A CENSUS.

Montpelier City Council Gives Contract to C. DeF. Bancroft.

At the meeting of the Montpelier city council on Wednesday evening, Charles DeF. Bancroft offered to take a census of the city by wards, giving each resident's name, ward, street, number, occupation and religion, furnish two typewritten copies, one of carbon, bound in half leather and cloth and the original ward books, written copy, bound each ward separately, for $100, provided that he be given authority to begin by July 1.

The matter was left to Alderman Gutcheil, Dawley and Broadfoot, as a special committee, with power to act and at the adjournment of the meeting Mr. Bancroft was engaged to do the work according to the above terms.

FREE IF IT FAILS.

All we ask of you is to give Calceura Solvent, Dr. Kennedy's latest medicine, a chance to dissolve the stone, gravel and uric acid that may be present in your kidneys, bladder and blood. We are so sure that it will do this and expel this irritating and poisonous matter from your system and thus cure the kidney disease or bladder trouble, that we agree to return your money if the medicine fails to cure. We will take all the risk, to induce you to give Calceura Solvent a trial. It is the only medicine for kidney and bladder troubles sold under a guarantee to cure or refund the money. We are warranted in making this liberal offer, as its record of cures is nine out of every ten cases. It is not a patent medicine, but a prescription used by Dr. Kennedy in his large private practice, with untiring success. Try it today on this offer.

mit to being bossed. He had a weak, piping voice, but that was also all right. In case of any family dispute the neighbors couldn't hear his side of the case. At the end of a quarter of an hour the spinster had made up her mind about things, and she said:

"Mr. Totten, are you aware of the fact that this is leap year?"

"Bless me, but I'd forgotten it," he replied, with a start that betrayed guilt.

"It is leap year, Mr. Totten, and may I ask if you recall that leap year carries with it a privilege for me?"

"Gladly, but so it does—so it does!"

"I do not know that this privilege is generally taken advantage of, but yet I cannot see why not. If I have fallen in love with you, Mr. Totten?"

"Don't! Oh, don't!"

"If I have fallen in love with you and desire to ask for your heart and hand, why should it not be perfectly proper for me to do so?"

"Yes, but—but—" he stammered as he giggled around on his chair and blushed like a schoolgirl.

"Mr. Totten," continued Cynthia as she laid her hand on her heart, "I fell in love with you the minute I opened the door. Providence sent you here. Providence has planned to unite us."

"Oh, gracious me!"

"And I therefore ask you, Mr. Totten—I therefore take advantage of the special privilege accorded my sex once in four years—four long and dreary years—to ask you if you will be mine."

"Dear me! Dear me!" gasped Mr. Totten as he rubbed the palms of his hands together and bobbed about.

"It may seem to you a little sudden, Mr. Totten—indeed, it is a little sudden—but who can withstand the voice of love? Say that you will be mine and make me happy. I am not rich, and I am not worthy of you, but I will do my best to make you happy."

"I—I couldn't do it!" announced Mr. Totten, as he arose and looked for his hat.

"Is it possible that you are a married man and have come here to toy with my maidenly heart? If so, sir—"

"No, no, no! It's just that I don't—don't!"

"Totten, are you engaged to another?"

"No, no!"

"Then you sit right down and stay to dinner. Providence sent you here, and if you think I am going to let you get away you are mistaken."

But he dodged her and reached the door
